

Group Work

1. <https://eburns1209.github.io/travel/>

This project is a travel app in which the user can find out the driving distance from their current location to the destination of their choosing. The app is made with front-end development (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, JQuery) and firebase for database purposes. I worked on the front-end of the site, as well as collaborated with my group members to get the connection to the database.

- 2.